PANEL 2: Community Engagement

Brett Feldman

- Street medicine is now reimbursable under MediCal and appears to be a very effective model to bring care to the unsheltered homeless. Are there other challenges you face in ensuring patients are getting the care they need?
- As we know, current policy in California only allows Counties to provide services to those who are experiencing severe mental illness (SMI).
- How is the County meeting these needs, and what gaps can we work to address to ensure network adequacy for SMI?

Dave Gillotte

- What are some best practices that have helped establish a trusted connection within your peer support teams?
- What are some policy recommendations that have come from the California Fire Service Task Force on Behavioral Health?

Dr. Vival Bhanvadia

- With California's vision of 'whole person care' how do you expect the role of community pharmacies to expand to be able to continue providing that care?
- Can you expand on patient empowerment when it comes to how they engage in their treatment?
